

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Thalia Theater Troupe is partnering with Quincy Art Association to present Vincent – a play about the life of Vincent van Gogh, at the QArts Gallery for six performances Friday through Sunday, April 25, 26, 27 and May 2, 3, 4 @ 7 pm.

Written by local legendary actor Leonard Nimoy, Vincent takes place one week after the famous artist's death, as his brother Theo recounts the many extraordinary events in Vincent van Gogh's life. This is a wonderful opportunity to see live theater presented by Quincy's newest theater troupe. Come see a play about an artist and discover a gallery!

Performances are $25.00 at the door, or you can purchase them from the website: <https://thaliatheatertroupe.org>

See you at the show!

QArts Gallery, 1229 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169 (across from Quincy College).

The MBTA Quincy Center station is just behind the QArts Gallery.

For more information about the Thalia Theater Troupe, visit <https://thalia-theatertroupe.org> Thalia Theater Troupe has summer residence at the Ruth Gordon Amphitheater. For more information about events at the Ruth Gordon Amphitheater, visit <https://FriendsOfRGA.org>

For more information about other events at the QArts Gallery, visit <https://www.quincyartma.org>